In general we are moving in the right direction

The plot above shows how many people who live in Franklin are being tracked by the County Health Department compared to the peak last April. 100% is set equal to last April's peak. The way it is calculated is by counting the number of people who were infected over the last 30 days minus those who died. You can see we just went through a high and wide wave. The colors break it down by ages. Hopefully, the trend will keep going down.

Looking at the cases and deaths broken down into months we are increasing case numbers a little faster than in Feb.
